Who can join?

The ASSDA YPN welcomes stainless professionals aged up to 40 years and who are part of an ASSDA Member organisation. Whether you are an engineer, sales representative, fabricator, or involved in any facet of the industry, our network is committed to delivering opportunities to help you thrive.

"Since joining the ASSDA Young Professionals Network (YPN) from its inception, I have found it to be an invaluable resource. The YPN has allowed me to build a network of contacts who are passionate about seeing the industry grow. Through this network, I have connected with many professionals, both domestically and internationally, providing me with opportunities to represent my company and ASSDA on a global stage.

The relationships and connections I've formed within the YPN have significantly expanded my professional network, directly benefiting our business and contributing to my personal growth. The collaborative environment of the YPN has not only enhanced my industry knowledge but also provided a platform to exchange ideas and best practices, driving the industry forward.

I encourage all businesses to consider adding their junior staff to the YPN. The benefits of being part of this network are immense, and by involving more young professionals, we can continue to grow and strengthen the industry together.

Being a part of the YPN has been a transformative experience, and I am grateful for the opportunities it has afforded me to contribute to and grow within the stainless steel industry."
